Advanced Discovery Skills in 2018

Don't miss this essential event for Colorado litigation practitioners! This year's program features sessions on getting beyond the basics to break out of discovery ruts, witness preparation for pretrial hearings and depositions, ten tips for ESI discovery, conducting discovery in different forums, ethics in discovery, and subpoenas and third-party discovery. This year's program will also feature a judges' panel moderated by Magistrate Judge Nina Y. Wang.

Discovery in Colorado is a practical guide to discovery that brings to life the application of the Colorado and Federal Rules of Civil Procedure governing the discovery process. Discovery in Colorado was written by a variety of different practitioners, overseen by Magistrate Judge Nina Y. Wang and Natalie Hanlon Leh, Esq. Attorneys and judges with backgrounds in private, in-house, and government practice authored individual chapters. Learn different approaches to discovery and hear distinct perspectives from some of the most experienced trial attorneys and judges in Colorado. Each class attendee receives Discovery in Colorado, 2018 Edition, as course materials. Explore the ever-changing state of discovery through this valuable course and companion book.
