WHAT'S NEW in Colorado Real Estate

Real Estate Spring Update

Co-sponsored by the CBA Real Estate Law Section

There's a lot going on in the Colorado real estate industry!

The City and County of Denver is asking with every project whether a public/private partnership is a good fit. What is (and is not) a P3? Why use a P3 model for building projects? What is developable real estate's role in P3s? And what are some recent market examples of public/private partnerships? Get answers to these questions and more!

According to the FBI, the Internet Crime Complaint Center saw a 480% increase in the number of complaints filed last year by those in the real estate industry. Most of these complaints were related to wire fraud. Find out why wire fraud is a growing trend in the real estate industry.

On November 7, 2017, the citizens of Denver passed the Denver Green Roof Initiative. The City is forming a Task Force of stakeholders to develop recommended modifications, clarifications and improvements to the initiative through a collaborative, consensus-based process. Attend the program to learn about the implementation of this new ordinance.

You always need to stay apprised of insurance issues. Get the latest on how to analyze insurance claims, indemnification clauses and the duty to defend.

... and back by popular demand! COLAP Presents: Staying Sane in the Practice of Law. This presentation will help you understand and mitigate the effects of stress, vicarious trauma, compassion fatigue, decision fatigue and case fatigue, including a discussion of The ABA Study on Attorney Wellness of August 2017.
